How to Keep Your Balance When the Floor is Rocking!

What's Rocking Your Attendees' Floor?

A demanding boss?

Worry about keeping their job. Or their clients?
Tired of being a full-time parent with a full-time job?

Unsupportive co-workers?

Having to do more with less?

Work is boring?

Competition is tough?

Feeling isolated and unappreciated?

Spouse doesn't understand?

In times of uncertainty more is required of us than ever before to balance all of our commitments both at work and at home. As a result, productivity, innovation and creativity suffer.

She blends mind-body principles with practical tools, humor, and thought-provoking insights that will instill in participants the ability to be grounded, purposeful, and have the right attitude for success, even if their floor is rocking!
